Rabies vaccination of dogs is the only companion animal vaccine required by law in most (but not all) states.

In Canada, rabies vaccination of dogs and cats is only required in the province of Ontario.

Veterinarians are obligated to adhere to state/local/provincial statutes when administering rabies vaccines to dogs.

The rabies vaccine is a vaccine used to prevent rabies. There are a number of rabies vaccines available that are both safe and effective. They can be used to prevent rabies before, and for a period of time after, exposure to the rabies virus, which is commonly caused by a dog bite or a bat bite.

~~What You Need to Know About Rabies Vaccines for Cats~~

IMPORTANT UPDATE - October 2014: Merial has recently brought to market a new PureVax rabies vaccine that is non-adjuvanted and is labeled for 3 years versus their original (and still available) PureVax rabies vaccine that is labeled for 1 year. The 3-year product is the rabies vaccine that I strongly recommend.
